PUBLIC SCHOOLS OPEN TODAY

Everything in Readiness for the Process of Training the Young Idea.

FOUR THOUSAND PUPILS ARE EXPECTED

Several Changes Made in the Assignment of Teachers for the Year—Arrangement of Work at the Kindergartens.

Everything is in readiness for the opening of the school year today, and it is expected that the 4,000 or more pupils who may enroll will be down to business with their books and slates with but little delay after 9 o'clock this morning.

A number of changes have been made in the assignment of teachers for the new year. At the high school Miss Webster is still detained in the east, owing to ill-health.

with such wonderful enthusiasm and brought so much material that Moses was to be added to the ranks of the saints. It had more than enough missionaries and money. That tabernacle was the worshiping place of man for seven centuries. Have we lost any of this ancient enthusiasm? Of course not. But on the people for a nation now. We must build one that is in reach of our homes so that every man can attend the house of God if he will and we are building them with wonderful rapidity. In the last thirty years we have built enough houses of prayer to seat four and one half million people, and we are building them still. In the year 1860 you could have bought all the Methodist Episcopal church for a sum of $1,000,000; it would have cost $100,000,000 to do it now. Our church property has increased $122,000,000 since 1860. Does that show that the people have lost any of their ancient enthusiasm? I think not. Methodists are now building houses of worship at the rate of four churches every day and the Protestants are building them at the rate of seventeen every day, so I think that the wilderness enthusiasm is still upon the church. We are still willing to make sacrifices to furnish the houses of prayer.

Here Bishop McCabe related the story of how he raised the debt of $35,000 of a church in Jackson, Mich. Inside of a month's time, continuing he said: "I think this was just another case of ancient enthusiasm. I do not wonder that here you have been almost discouraged on account of the ponderous debt that has been on you so long, but take cheer and say that you are going to get through it. The enthusiasm that the people had in the wilderness will pay it. Everybody must do something. We must have $2,500 here this morning. This will pay the interest anyhow. You must not feel dejected at this moment, but see this $2,500 with the sense of gaining a victory."

BIBBY IS PROBABLY A BARKER.

Democratic Chief, It is Said, Would Like to Be Sheriff.

Chief of Police Bibby still persists in his denial of being a candidate for the democratic nomination for sheriff, although his friends continue to claim that he is a candidate and that the majority of the delegates to the county convention elected Saturday night are for him. It is understood that Chief Bibby has a yearning ambition to be sheriff of Pottawattamie county, but is afraid of making the race this year, as it is generally conceded not to be a democratic year, and he is not over-anxious to be led out like a lamb for slaughter. There seems to be little doubt, however, that his name will come before the convention. The rank and file of the party in the county districts are said to be for John Hazen for sheriff and will fight hard for his nomination.

The latest rumor in connection with the nomination for state senator is that it will go to Rev. J. R. Speck, the free silver apostle. For state representatives the names of F. Hetzel of Avoca and Warren Hough of Crescent are most prominently mentioned now.

Brooks Reed, at present city treasurer, it is said, will have a walk-away for the nomination for county treasurer, there being no one else in the party desirous of entering the lists against William Arnd, the republican nominee.

The name of Dr. Seybert of this city was mentioned in connection with the nomination for coroner, but it is understood now that Dr. A. Wyand of this city is the present incumbent, will undoubtedly be honored with a renomination. For the nomination for county surveyor M. Rawls is mentioned and L. P. Judson appears to be out in the running. The name of Henry C. Knepper, T. H. Comie, F. Daub, C. Crum, L. P. Service, committeeman, T. H. Comie, Third Ward—First precinct, A. E. Hooker, John P. Organ, Second Ward—Second precinct, John O'Neill, Second precinct, P. B. Sullivan, Emmet Tinley, J. B. Connor, Taylor Bryson; committeeman, P. B. Sullivan.

Fourth Ward—First precinct, S. L. Ely, N. A. Terrell, C. J. Bohls, Ed. Coady, Zed Evans. Second precinct, F. Albro, Zed Betters, Bartel Nelson, W. Wagner.

Sixth Ward—First precinct, P. G. Mike, D. L. Weir, John Schultz, Clint Mercer, W. C. Boyer; committeeman, W. C. Boyer.

Antony Held on James Banks' Body. Coroner Treynor held the autopsy yesterday morning on the remains of James Banks, the colored waiter at the Grand hotel who dropped dead Saturday morning on Broadway. It revealed that Banks' death was due to valvular disease of the heart and that a blood clot had formed near that valve. Banks had just been shaved in a barber shop at 1130 Broadway and had stepped from the shop into the street when he dropped dead while conversing with some friends. He was a single man and his relatives live at 1130 Broadway. His body will be taken this morning for burial.

The legal value of a kiss has been fixed at $4 in Fort Dodge. Donalack Collins, with an extra leg on board, invaded a citizen's house, met the head of the establishment, placed his arms around her and planted four kisses on her lips. For this he was arrested and the mayor fined him $10—$4 a kiss.

A month ago the city of Dubuque adopted the policy of collecting $20 from each slot machine owner in the city, and about thirty-five of them paid up. The second month's revenue is now due, but only five have paid up. It is the intention to make all who own such machines pay $20 or go out of the business.

"Land in this vicinity is mounting rapidly, but it is yet cheaper than in any neighboring Iowa county," says the Spirit Lake Beacon. "Good wild land may yet be bought at from $20 to $25 per acre, and farms with considerable improvements at from $25 to $30 per acre. These values are bound to rise 25 per cent in comparatively short periods. The low rate of interest and the comparative values make these lands the safest possible investment."

SOUTH OMAHA NEWS.

The hearing of the injunction against the city council secured by the Magic City Electric Light company is set for hearing before Judge Pawcett of the district court today. This is the case where Judge Pawcett issued an order restraining the city council from passing an ordinance repealing the franchise ordinance granted to the Magic city company last April.

The judicial committee of the council had occasion to look into the details of this ordinance and found that the franchise was granted and the bond given by the company accepted before the articles of incorporation had been filed. According to the statutes, the articles should have been filed prior to the request for a franchise. For this reason the judicial committee recommended the passage of an ordinance repealing the franchise. This repealing ordinance was ready for the second reading when its progress was blocked by an order of the court.

In the upholding of its position in this matter, the council has deemed it advisable to secure additional counsel to assist City Attorney Montgomery, and Frank Hanson has been retained for this purpose. Considerable interest appears to be taken in the case, as the city is prepared to put up a strong legal fight to have the injunction set aside.

It is understood that there will be no difficulty about the Magic City council securing another franchise in case the court holds the first franchise is not legal. The idea appears to be to straighten out a tangle which is liable to cause trouble later on.

School Board Opens Bids Tonight. Tonight the Board of Education will meet in adjourned session to open bids for the erection of the proposed school house at Twentieth and O streets and also bids for supplying the schools with coal and kindling. All bids for the construction of the school building must be accompanied by a certified check for $150 as an evidence of good faith, while with bids for coal a check for $25 must be sent. In both cases the board reserves the right to reject any or all of the bids. Some lively bidding is expected, especially on coal, as there is considerable rivalry among the local dealers.

Frank Secora, newly elected principal of the high school, arrived from Mexico Saturday evening and will be ready to take charge of the high school today. Principal Secora starts in with the hearty support of Superintendent Wolfe and the members of the Board of Education, and it is predicted that he will make a very successful principal.

Obstructions on the Sidewalks. There is one city ordinance to which little or no attention is paid, and that is No. 27, referring to the obstruction of streets and sidewalks. Merchants doing business in the downtown portion of the city have grown very careless in about allowing their packing boxes to occupy a large portion of the sidewalk in front of their stores. By the terms of the ordinance a space of only four feet from the building line is allowed for the display of goods. Articles placed outside of this line are liable to be removed, and storekeepers permitting such accumulation of boxes, etc., beyond this limit are liable to arrest and a fine of $10 for each offense. Chief Carroll admitted yesterday that most of the merchants were very careless in this respect and it is presumed that steps will be taken to enforce the ordinance so that the sidewalks from the four-foot line mentioned to the curb may be kept clear of obstructions.

Think It a Big Town. A great many strangers have visited the city within the last week, the majority being from the country. One of these horsehanded sons of toil drifted into the drug store on N street the other day and after calling for a soda water commenced to talk about the size of the two Omahas. He supposed that the two Omahas were as big as New York and Philadelphia put together. "Ain't it?" The druggist nearly fell dead, but managed to stammer out some sort of an intelligible reply. During the conversation he had hidden from the stranger that he had an unbroken line of buildings for ten miles was more than he could comprehend. A great many visitors do not realize that Omaha and South Omaha are two different cities with distinct and separate city governments.

Democratic Primaries Thursday. The week democratic primaries will be held Thursday next. The delegates to the convention will be elected to the convention. From street talk it appears that the democrats have been getting together since the last primaries and it is hardly probable that they will not take charge of the convention. Considerable interest seems to be taken in the selection of a candidate for clerk of the district court. Quite a number of Mayor Egan's friends are pushing him for the place, but his honor denies that he is a candidate. He insists that he is out of politics and that he is figuring on retiring from the political arena as soon as his term as mayor is ended. City Treasurer Broadwell is being mentioned for the place also, and it is in the hands of the voters whether the city of Broadwell can secure the undivided support of the Esoterics.

Assessors and Justices. The republican nominating convention Saturday selected assessors as follows: First ward, L. F. Etter; second ward, Philip Zelinka; third ward, J. C. Bowley; fourth ward, Joseph Wawrynkiwicz. George W. How and John Grice were nominated for justices of the peace. Both Mr. Etter and Mr. Wawrynkiwicz have served as assessors before. J. C. Bowley served a term as constable not long ago, has been taking quite an important part in politics lately, but has never held office.

George W. Howe served a term as justice and has many friends here who will doubtless support him. John Grice, the other nominee for justice of the peace, was the first city attorney of South Omaha, having served during the time Colonel Savage was mayor.

Magic City Gossip. The public schools open today. Mrs. Fellows has returned from an eastern trip. Mrs. W. S. Babcock is preparing to visit friends out in the state.
